

Course Immunisation Practice in Primary Healthcare (5 day workshop)

Value for Organisations

Benchmarque Group are collaborating with the Victorian Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Organisation (VACCHO) to deliver six 5-day Immunisation workshops. The five day Immunisation face-to-face workshop offers participants the chance to complete the Course in Immunisation Practice in Primary Healthcare in a concentrated and immersive format.

Led by experienced trainers with years of expertise and practical insights, this workshop provides a valuable opportunity for healthcare professionals to enhance their skills in immunisation.

Students will experience an extensive five days of face-to-face learning designed to provide them with the specific knowledge and skills that will enable them to perform a range of comprehensive immunisation services and remain up-to-date with current programs, changes, and requirements relevant to their scope of practice.

Course Delivery

Over the course of 5 intensive days, participants engage in interactive workshops, supplemented by innovative digital tools and resources. The experience includes:

- A dynamic face-to-face workshop sessions led by experienced instructors
- Hands-on skills activities
- Participants engage in simulated scenarios, role-plays, and skills demonstrations to develop proficiency in key immunisation practices
- Assessment tasks, such as quizzes, case studies, and skills assessments
- Instructors provide constructive feedback and support to guide participants in their learning journey and address any areas for improvement.

Learning Outcomes

- Source immunisation information in primary healthcare.
- Identify and examine administrative processes to deliver immunisation services, including cold chain management.
- Prepare, plan and perform an immunisation encounter including vaccination catch-up scheduling.
- Determine immunisation needs to priority populations.
- Source immunisation legislation in primary healthcare.
