Why

Problem: Typical household cleaners may be filled with harmful chemicals and can even contribute to indoor air pollution.

Solution: The densely woven EnviroCloth made of superfine microfiber is a chemical-free cleaning solution that can help you physically remove up to 99% of bacteria from a surface with only water when following proper care and use instructions.

Problem: Paper towels can create tons of waste, and typical glass cleaners may contain health-damaging chemicals.

Solution: The Window Cloth helps you get windows, mirrors and other shiny surfaces sparkling clean with just a little water.

Problem: Dust spray cleaners attract dirt and dust back to the surface.

Solution: The Dusting Mitt attracts and traps allergens and dust particles with its dense, plush fibers – great for a quick, chemical-free clean throughout your home.

Problem: Many typical laundry detergents come in wasteful plastic jugs and contain chemicals that may cause skin irritation and even respiratory issues.

Solution: Our highly concentrated liquid-free strips come in plastic-free packaging and work in both high-efficiency and standard machines to brighten, whiten and clean clothes.

Problem: You lead a busy life and don't always have time to clean the stuck-on grime and goo that kids and pets can leave in their wake. You need something strong on dirt yet easy on the environment with no harmful chemicals.

Solution: Just a small amount of the Power Cleaning Paste cleans and polishes surfaces with ease, providing long-lasting results, making it ideal for a range of cleaning tasks.

Problem: Single-use mop pads are costly and can end up in landfills, contributing to the pollution of our planet.

Solution: The Norwex Mop System is versatile and cleans everything from high ceilings to your floors and walls without the waste of single-use pads.
